Town Welcomes New Chief Code Compliance Officer

The Inspections Department welcomes Robert Liles as the Town of Garner's new chief code compliance officer.

Liles is a certified building inspector level 1-standard, electrical inspector level 1-standard, plumbing inspector level 1-probationary and mechanical inspector level 1-probationary. His previous experience includes custom home building, facilities management and real estate. He is a licensed general contractor and real estate broker. Liles most recently worked as a housing inspector with the City of Raleigh.

"We're excited to have someone with Robert's range of experience and expertise join our team," Inspections Director Tony Beasley said. "I think we're especially lucky to be getting a person of his caliber who has experience and training from the City of Raleigh."

Liles graduated from Garner High School and received an associate's degree in business administration from Wake Technical Community College.

For more information about the Town's Inspections Department, contact Tony Beasley at (919) 773-4405 or at tbeasley@garnernc.gov.
